

The Sociological Turn in International Political Economy

The field of International Political Economy (IPE) has undergone a sociological turn in recent years. In line with international academic trends, Australian IPE now considers a diverse range of actors to understand the sources of policy change. This workshop 'takes stock' of Australian IPE, and to seeks to forge links between IPE scholars and postgraduate students.

Friday October 5

9am-5pm, Room 405, Ligertwood Building, University of Adelaide

This one-day workshop includes paper sessions on “International Organizations”, “Private Authority and Civil Society”, “Conceptual Advances in IPE”, and a roundtable on “Australian IPE and International Publishing”. The Opening Address will be provided by Richard Leaver (Flinders). Confirmed speakers include: Tom Conley (Griffith), Juanita Elias (Adelaide), Penny Griffith (Macq), Susan Park (Deakin), John Ravenhill (ANU), Andrew Rosser (Adelaide), Len Seabrooke (CBS/ANU), Jason Sharman (Griffith), Heloise Weber (UQ), and Marc Williams (UNSW).

Thursday October 4

1:30pm-5pm, Stretton Room, 4th Floor Napier Building, University of Adelaide

This pre-workshop session provides PhD students with an opportunity to present arguments to their peers and IPE academics. The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of Adelaide is providing two grants to interstate students for airfares. Applicants should send a one-page statement of research interests to Juanita Elias at juanita.elias@adelaide.edu.au and Len Seabrooke at ls.cbp@cbs.dk

Attendance to the workshop is FREE and a detailed program will be provided to participants in early September. If you would like to present a paper or attend the workshop please e-mail Juanita Elias at juanita.elias@adelaide.edu.au and Len Seabrooke at ls.cbp@cbs.dk
